Embracing moments of serenity

Our mission is to enhance your everyday life and make a positive impact on the world. It's a world where the essence of living is a slow, present, and balanced life. We aim to create a space, where we inspire to unwind and prioritize small and meaningful moments throughout the day. Particularly during the start of the day upon waking up and at the end before retiring to bed. We encourage you to incorporate small rituals into your daily routine, prioritizing tranquility, immersion, mindfulness, self-care, and quality moments with your loved ones within the comfort of your home.

Don't just settle for feeling comfortable during those peaceful moments at home. Embrace the feeling of both well-being and beauty. Therefore, why wear a dull oversized T-shirt to bed or for a cozy evening on the sofa, if you can wear soft, feminine, and elegant night- and loungewear instead?

As a brand with a significant female presence in our organization, we have a profound comprehension of women's needs – the yearning for comfort and a desire to look good day and night.

We know we are responsible for our impact on the environment. Therefore, of course, our initiatives are with environmental concerns in mind.

The Honest Collection

The Honest Collection is about embracing simplicity and nurturing routines that ground and reset us for each day. The Collection is inspired by colors and natural elements that evoke warmth, calmness, and joy. You will experience new and refreshing colors like yellow and orange which bring associations of happiness, joy, and sunshine. As usual and according to our design philosophy, you will find different shades of blue and rose, with a touch of nature-inspired elements.

Because we care

Natural materials - thoughtfully chosen

It means everything. The materials we choose for our night- and loungewear, underwear, and swimwear need to be aligned with our DNA when it comes to durability, comfort, and caring.

We're prioritizing using different materials because each material has different qualities. Wisely we choose soft, breathable, warm, lightweight, and comfortable fabrics. Fabrics that both indulge our body - and our mind. We create strong and long-lasting products that we hope you will use, keep, and cherish for decades. Therefore, CCDK Copenhagen stands as a highly regarded addition to your wardrobe if you desire to exude a sense of sophistication and tranquility.

At any time, we prefer to use natural materials like viscose, cotton, and modal. Because it's important to us that the fibers we wear close to our body are as natural as possible. But we also mix these qualities with other fibers like polyester and elastane because these different materials strengthen the quality of our products. And helps us to achieve a soft feeling and elegance.

The materials we use are a big part of our total environmental impact, therefore when selecting fabrics and fibers we preferably choose and use high-quality materials with a sustainable focus, that are considered less impactful on our environment. All our products in CCDK contain materials like Lenzing EcoVero Viscose, Organic Cotton, Viscose extracted from Bamboo, and Recycled Polyester.

Caring at heart about our colleagues, partners, and customers. We care for a better future and want to adapt while maintaining the quality of our nightwear. We must maintain a constant focus on evolving and rethinking how we can help and protect the planet for the benefit of future generations.

Because we care...
